PRIVACY POLICY

Reid Ready Life Coaching, LLC (RRLC), our staff and contractors are committed to protecting your privacy. We encourage you to review this privacy policy to better understand our views and practices and how they pertain to you as a user of our services or member of our website.

Information We Gather

We may collect personal information, such as but not limited to: name, address, contact number, email address, work information, home information, marital status, age, birthdate, credit card information, payment history, account status, images, videos, and comments you post on our website, and general notes. Any information collected as part of private coaching or mentoring services, educational or training files, are never shared and will be protected according to federal and NJ State privacy laws. However, in the event of subpoena, legal injunction, illegal activities, or concerns a client will harm him/herself or someone else, RRLC's staff, employees, contractors, and affiliates are obligated to report any requested information to the extent the law allows, and only as much as we are able to keep restricted.

We will use the information we collect about you to help us improve services for you, and to provide you with the service(s) you have requested, and/or to let you know about additional products or services that may be of interest to you. RRLC will never sell your information; however, we may occasionally share information with our contracted providers, third-party service or support providers, and invite these partners to participate in offers we feel would be attractive to you, as it may pertain to Services, Training and Products, as defined in our Terms of Service.

Age Restrictions

If you are under the age of 18, some member benefits may not be available, and some restrictions may apply. Individuals under 18 years old require parental permission to access or benefit from RRLC Services, Training and Products.
